Starting point is the exhibition 'Tell me about yesterday tomorrow', which took part at the NS Dokumentationszentrum München (Nov. 2019-Oct. 2020). We will discuss the mission of the center and the way the

	participating artists contributed to the discourse of the historical presentation of Nazi-politics in the center. Every student will select one of these artists to study his/her work closely and deliver a 'manual' to reconstruct the work selected/shown. The selection of the artist will have impact for the visual language of the participating students, reconstructed in a portfolio and evaluated in dialogue with the teachers of the studio. The students are expected to deliver a new work of their own at the end of the studio, taking into account their experiences and dealing with the issue of history. Educational objectives module 1 – Curatorial studies: theories and practices: The students will be given basic instruments in order to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• acquire a methodology in the field of curation, but also of artistic production</li><li>• acquire basic knowledge necessary to judge and enable a visual art project from a cultural and theoretical point of view</li><li>• acquire the basic knowledge to evaluate critically one's own work and to deal with the complexities of contemporary society</li><li>• acquire the basic knowledge concerning the culture of artistic production in all its facets</li><li>• know relevant historical and theoretical aspects in the field of modern and contemporary art</li></ul> Course description module 2 – Exhibit design: Module 2 is closely related to the questions posed by module 1 regarding the creation of an artistic practice and identity, as well as the positioning within the art world. During the semester we will discuss how a private artistic practice can be made public, through the analysis of a series of tools, formats and platforms that enable people to exhibit their work nowadays. In particular, the most recent techniques of online exhibition will be explored both theoretically and practically, as well as the problematics that accompany this phenomenon. Through the presentation and discussion of a series of case studies, and the participation in a cycle of seminars organised in collaboration with international authors currently experimenting with new exhibition formats, students will be able to familiarise themselves with the various phases that characterise the production of a digital exhibition: from the conception of the works, to their realisation, installation and display.

	In parallel to the theoretical part, students will have the opportunity to actively experiment with the format of the digital exhibition, through a series of practical exercises organised in workshop mode, which will provide them with the tools to exhibit their works in the space of the Web. Educational objectives Module 2 – Exhibit design: Students will have acquired: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• their own design methodology in the field of artistic production;</li><li>• a solid cultural heritage enabling them to look critically at their own work and to grasp and analyse contemporary cultural and social phenomena characterising art;</li><li>• theoretical skills enabling them to critically observe different exhibition formats;</li><li>• technical skills useful for the realisation of a digital exhibition project, from the conception of the work to its realisation and communication.</li></ul> Course description module 3 – Artistic research: The topics of module 3 are closely linked with contents and targets of module 1 of the Studio. The overarching theme of this module is exhibiting history. From this we derive the sub-theme, which shows possibilities, procedures and strategies of artistic interventions, that process events and stories of the past in such a way that they can be exhibited. All these ways and forms of expression can be understood as exploratory positions and as exploratory work, done by artists. The lectures in the module therefore treat the concept of "history" as a variable, that is itself changeable and dependent on time, society, politics, culture, technology and theory: "history" is thus a construct built by people and institutions. The institution of the museum, its predecessors, variants and dependencies are passively or actively involved in this construction. How institutions, people, political will, manipulative calculation, marketing or sensationalism instrumentalized seemingly real facts for a purpose is shown by examples of museums, collections, places of remembrance that explicitly exhibit or want to convey historical themes. Students have to transform the historical, methodological and theoretical knowledge, provided by the lectures, readings and seminars into own texts and other experimental artistic forms of expression. Focus lies on the investigation of historical artefacts, which must be chosen

	in a dialogue with the lecturer(s). This part of the course will start from the second half of the semester Educational objectives module 3 – Artistic research: Purpose of the course is the communication of scientific and artistic methods and contents. The students will be given important tools in order to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- acquire important methods in the field of artistic research</li> <li>- acquire knowledge about scientific research in contrast to artistic research</li> <li>- acquire the basic knowledge of art history and cultural theories, concerning the notion "history"</li> <li>- acquire knowledge about the institution "museum"</li> <li>- acquire a critical awareness of the construction and communication of concepts of history, intended to be exhibited</li> <li>- acquire basic knowledge to write texts in an appropriate way, related to cultural sciences and art as research method</li> <li>- acquire skills to understand and discuss theoretical texts</li> </ul> Purpose of the course is the communication of scientific and artistic methods and contents.

- present on a professional level his/her own project in the field of the visual arts both orally and written;
- communicate and argue the reasons of his/her choices and motivate them from a formal, cultural and theoretical point of view.

Learning skills

The student will be able to:

- identify, develop and realize solutions to complex problems through the application of the acquired knowledge;
- know how to analyse (critically), define and contextualise their projects
- to put in practice what had been learned in the case of future educational trajectories

Making judgements

The student will be able to develop a good independent judgment, both in the critical evaluation of their work and in the ability to use the appropriate interpretive tools with respect to the contexts where they are going to apply their own design practice and / or to continue their studies.

The student will have furthermore acquired:

- qualified ways to artistically construct identities and visualise the process
- to develop a creative attitude and the basic knowledge on how to implement it and enhance one's personal skills and interests
- a basic methodology in the study in order to be able to continue the studies at the postgraduate level in an international context

Learning outcomes for module 3 – Artistic research: Knowledge and understanding

- The student will know the discourses and questions concerning the field of artistic research
- The student will know and understand the most important methods which are relevant to practice artistic research work
- The student knows and understand the most important arguments about artistic concepts

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• The student knows the structure of artistic texts as methods of practicing artistic research</li><li>• The student understands different positions and topics about artistic authorship</li><li>• The student understands the problem of the authorship in between sciences and art</li></ul> Applying knowledge and understanding The student will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• write texts of different nature in the field of artistic research;</li><li>• understand different methods about artistic research and to develop his/her own concepts;</li><li>• develop ideas about artistic research and to transform these ideas into individual experimental artistic works.</li></ul> Making judgments The student will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• comprehend and reproduce the argumentation of scientific art-theoretical texts and positions about artistic research;</li><li>• make judgements about the relevance of its arguments in relation to the question and topic of the discourse;</li><li>• make a judgement about different positions concerning artistic authorship;</li><li>• make a judgement about methods and means of expression of artistic research in relation to contemporary art;</li><li>• make a judgement about methods and means of expression concerning artistic authorship.</li></ul> Communication skills The student will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• present and communicate in a written and oral form his/her analysis, observations and investigations about artistic research in a comprehensible way;</li><li>• present and communicate in written and oral form his/hers applied or individually developed methods concerning artistic research;</li><li>• explain in a comprehensible oral form concepts, innovation and aesthetical decisions which are the basis of the development to their individual artistic position and results.</li></ul> Learning skills The students will gain the necessary learning skills to:

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• research, understand, judge about scientific texts with a sound structure and method to work target-oriented;</li><li>• structure the own artistic work, that it will satisfy the basic standards of an artistic research process and result;</li></ul> develop these skills during the study career path to reach a pursuing niveau of autonomy in artistic work practice.

---	--

	'yesterday tomorrow' zum Ausgangspunkt, die im NS Dokumentationszentrum München stattfand (November 2018- Oktober 2020). Zunächst soll die Aufgabenstellung des Zentrums besprochen werden und wie die beteiligten Künstler/Innen zum Diskurs, mit dem die dort präsentierte Geschichte des deutschen Faschismus präsentiert wird, beigetragen haben. Jede/jeder Studierende wird sich eine der beteiligten Künstler/Innen auswählen und deren Werk eingehend studieren, um schließlich eine Rekonstruktion der Arbeit zu entwickeln. Diese Wahl sollte eine Wirkung auf die eigene Bildsprache der Studierenden haben, die in einem zu entwickelnden Portfolio darzustellen ist und im Dialog mit den Lehrenden analysiert wird. Schließlich wird von den Teilnehmer/innen ein eigenes neues Werk erwartet, das die gemachten Erfahrungen spiegelt und ein historisches Thema behandelt. Dieses Projekt wird begleitet von Vorlesungen über die institutionellen Aspekte der ‚Kunstwelt‘: Ausstellungspraxis, Museumsgeschichte, Kunstmarkt. Bildungsziele Modul 1 – Kuratorische Studien: Theorie und Praxis Die Studierenden erhalten: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Einsichten in die Methoden des Kuratierens zu bekommen, aber auch in die der künstlerischen Produktion</li> <li>• Grundlagenwissen, um künstlerische Projekte aus kultureller und theoretischer Perspektive zu bewerten und durchzuführen</li> <li>• Grundlagenwissen, um die eigene Arbeit kritisch zu hinterfragen und dabei mit der Komplexität zeitgenössischer Gesellschaft umzugehen</li> <li>• Grundlagenwissen zur künstlerischer Produktion in allen ihren Facetten</li> <li>• Relevantes Wissen verschiedener Aspekte moderner und zeitgenössischer Kunst</li> </ul>

	Nel corso del semestre si discuterà di come una pratica artistica privata possa essere resa pubblica, attraverso l'analisi di una serie di strumenti, format e piattaforme che consentono di esporre il proprio lavoro al giorno d'oggi. In particolare, verranno approfondite – sia teoricamente, sia praticamente – le più recenti tecniche di esposizione online, nonché le problematiche che accompagnano tale fenomeno. Attraverso la presentazione e discussione di una serie di casi studio, e la partecipazione a un ciclo di seminari organizzato in collaborazione con autori internazionali attualmente impegnati nella sperimentazione con nuovi format espositivi, gli studenti avranno modo di familiarizzare con le diverse fasi che caratterizzano la produzione di una mostra digitale: dal concepimento delle opere, alla loro realizzazione, alla loro installazione ed esposizione. Parallelamente alla parte teorica, gli studenti avranno modo di sperimentare attivamente con il format della mostra digitale, attraverso una serie di esercitazioni pratiche organizzate in modalità "workshop", che forniranno loro gli strumenti per esporre le proprie opere nello spazio del Web. Obiettivi formativi modulo 2 – Exhibit design (= Exhibit Design per gli studenti immatricolati prima del 2018/19) Gli studenti avranno acquisito: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• una propria metodologia progettuale nel campo della produzione artistica;</li><li>• un solido patrimonio culturale che permetta loro di guardare criticamente al proprio lavoro e cogliere e analizzare i fenomeni contemporanei culturali e sociali che caratterizzano l'arte;</li><li>• competenze teoriche che permettano loro di osservare criticamente diversi format espositivi;</li></ul> competenze tecniche utili alla realizzazione di un progetto di mostra digitale, dalla fase di ideazione dell'opera fino a quella della sua realizzazione e comunicazione. Obiettivi formativi modulo 2 – Exhibit design (= Exhibit Design per gli studenti immatricolati prima del 2018/19) Gli studenti avranno acquisito: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• una propria metodologia progettuale nel campo della produzione artistica;</li></ul>
