Attendance	Because of the laboratory character of this course which contains active off-campus / on-site work with firms and organizations, and a possible collaboration with international students from Baruch college full commitment and active participation is needed from those students who work on client projects, as it is crucial to achieve the learning objectives associated with the specific purpose and design of the course (e.g., interaction, teamwork, negotiation). There is the need to notify the lecturer until December, 20th regarding the decision to attend and participate as a full team member. Those students who decide to take the course –e.g., because it is mandatory– but are neither willing or able to attend/participate, should indicate these in written form before the start of the semester (latest: end of February). They will be provided with a term assignment with a comparable workload and limited processing time, i.e. 3 months. Those who fail with the term assignment or bail out of the assigned consulting project will be provided with a new assignment.
Prerequisites	Successful completion of the Ms course "Advanced Strategic Management" is recommended.
Course page	Will be set up on OLE

Specific educational objectives	The objective of this laboratory is to apply and thereby broaden students' skills with regard to analyzing and crafting strategies, organizational structures, processes, information management and corresponding technologies. Additionally, soft-skills and interpersonal ability to communicate and negotiate should be developed and/or improved.

	Students –ideally in collaboration with a similar cohort from Baruch College– will be assigned to specific business problems of firms and conduct consulting tasks that include application of knowledge acquired in previous courses especially in the BAC track of the Ms A&F or comparable majors. Through presenting the results of the consulting work in front of clients, lecturers, and fellow students communication skills are enhanced.
