

Marco Cagol

Address: via Penegal 23 A, 39100 Bolzano

E-Mail: marco.cagol@unibz.it

Nationality: Italian

Education:

- Degree in Philosophy and Pedagogy achieved at the University of Padova in the year 1979,
- Master degree in Community Environment Law in the academic year 2002/2003
- Qualification for the teaching of Italian L2 (Intendenza Scolastica Bolzano, 1983)

Work experiences:

Teacher in various schools of the Provincia Autonoma di Bolzano; worked for five years, from 01.09.1989 until 31.08.1994, at the Istituto Pedagogico for the German schools of Bolzano as teacher in charge for the area Italian L2; collaborated for years with the language school Alpha&Beta in Bolzano; since 10 years is collaborating with the Language Centre of the Free University of Bolzano and since 7 years is working as contract professor at the Faculties of Economics and Management, of Computer Sciences and of Education of the Free University of Bolzano.

He followed, coordinated, organized and held a lot of refresher and training courses about abilities, methodologies and issues related to teaching the foreign language (L2) and related to the environmental education. He has been a trainer for teachers of L2.

Publications: essays and articles in journals and conference proceedings related to the teaching of languages, to the environmental education and to the intercultural education.