Holger Preuss is Professor of Sport Economics and Sport Sociology at the Johannes Gutenberg-University in Mainz, Germany and at the Molde University College, Norway. He is also adjunct professor at the University of Ottawa, Canada and international scholar at the State University of New York (Cortland).

He was editor of the Journal “European Sport Management Quarterly” (2012-2014), one of the world leading journals in sport management. He also is associate Editor of the “Journal of Sport & Tourism”. He has published 16 books and more than 125 articles in international journals and books. During the past decade he has been invited to hold more than 140 presentations all over the world.

His field of research is directed at economic and socio-economic aspects of sport. In particular he looks into the socio-economic impact analysis of mega-sport events such as Olympic Games, since 1972 and the FIFA Football World Cup, since 2006. Holger just finished his research about “cost overruns at Olympic Games” and is constantly developing the framework and measurement of legacy of mega events.

Holger is member of the IOC legacy and sustainability commission, of the UIPM future commission and of the WFDF ethics commission.
