

The Faculty of Economics and Management of the Free University of Bozen-Bolzano is seeking excellent candidates to fill the following academic position

Associate Professor in Accounting (13/B1 - SECS-P/07) Bolzano Campus

Profile

The candidate should have a PhD in Accounting or equivalent, obtained in Italy or abroad, and an excellent record of international scientific publications.

Position

The position offered is at the Associate Professor level in Accounting (Professore Associato SECS-P/07 in the Italian system).

This is a tenured full-time position with a teaching load of 120 hours/year.

The salary is competitive with that of top European universities and, depending on individual circumstances, may give access to fiscal advantages.

Approximate starting date: October 2017

For more information, please contact Prof. Lucie Courteau lucie.courteau@unibz.it.

Requirements

According to Italian legislation, only candidates already holding an equivalent academic position (Associate Professor) at their current foreign university are qualifying for a "direct call from abroad". The Faculty is particularly interested in applicants who will substantially contribute to its strong cross-disciplinary international research, as well as to its multilingual teaching culture. Furthermore, applicants need to meet the following conditions:

- record of excellence in scholarship at the international level, demonstrated by an appropriate publication record in leading international journals;
- evidence of high-quality teaching and mentoring;
- significant level of service to the department, the university, and the profession;
- knowledge of at least two of the three official teaching languages at the Faculty of Economics and Management (German, Italian, English).

The Free University of Bozen-Bolzano aims to increase the proportion of women in research and teaching and therefore specifically encourages female scientists to submit their expression of interest.

About the Faculty

The Faculty of Economics and Management was founded in 1998 and now counts over 1000 students and more than 50 faculty members who study and work in three languages: German, Italian and English. Through academic excellence in research and teaching, the Faculty contributes to the development of the South-Tyrolean economy while being solidly connected to international scientific networks. The Italian newspaper La Repubblica, in its 2015/16 University guide 'Grande Guida', has placed our faculty at the top of the national rank of small universities for teaching quality in the area of Economics and Statistics. Out of 850 assessed universities, our faculty is also at the top of the U-Multirank international ranking.

Research carried out in our faculty has been ranked by ANVUR among the best in Italy and it reflects our all-encompassing approach, in which specialists in the fields of economics, law, business, finance, politics and philosophy work together in several multidisciplinary projects.

The working language of the Faculty of Economics and Management is English but teaching is done also in German and Italian.
